

Portfolio Private Health Forum 2021 program

15:30-16:00 Registration

Section I: The big ones will become even bigger, won't they?

Hungarian private health providers have become stronger amidst the coronavirus pandemic, while the growth plans of private clinics remain intact. They are also preparing for a number of important changes in regulations. But what does their confidence and solid vision stem from? We will show the answer with the assistance of prominent players in the Hungarian market.

Section II: Digital revolution in private health care: Who are doing what exactly?

Digitalisation is forcing its way into the private healthcare market as well, and the trend has several key figures among patient care providers and their partners alike. The latter are businesses that make the lives of private providers and their patients easier through digital solutions already known in other sectors. Online appointments, online consultation, video calls, telemedicine, digital patient pathway organisation – just a few processes that are no longer the distant future as these are already with us in the Hungarian market.

17:30 - 17:45 Digital trends dictated by patients - How do private providers react to these?

Speaker:

Norbert Kriller, Business Development Expert, Prima Medica Csoport

17:45 - 18:45 Private health care on the digital path

As an increasing number of domestic businesses offer digital solutions, we will provide an overview of the digital quest of private health providers in their panel discussion.
