Section I - Digital Transformation and AI Boom in Hungary

The session will focus on the digital transformation of companies and the changes caused by the generative AI boom. The genAI boom is entering a mature phase, with more and more projects showing results and misdirection becoming apparent. How can you gain a competitive advantage by tracking technological change, and which strategies work? How will organisations and jobs be transformed, and what business results will AI and digitalisation developments bring? How do we measure this, and what are the experiences? How can domestic companies be the winners of change?

Section II/B - Financing and Tenders

Digitalisation is no longer an option but a must for any company that wants to remain competitive in the medium term. However, in addition to everyday core activities such as production, sales, and providing services, there is often a labour shortage and a low budget for digital development. Where will the funding come from for digital innovation, the introduction of tools to support digital transformation, and the development of digital skills? These will be discussed in the session.
