

Construction Industry 2023 program

Registration

Session 1

The domestic construction industry is on new foundations! A stop in public investments, an unpredictable energy environment, skyrocketing inflation and interest rates, wage tensions, and foreign competitors are just some of the risks and influencing factors that make the daily life of the domestic economy, including the construction industry, more difficult. Now, most people have survival in mind, not a two-digit growth. The world has changed enormously in the last year as well. In addition, a new investment law is coming, which will set the processes on a different path, hopefully, one that is more predictable and more beneficial for domestic actors. What should we expect? How should we prepare?

Award ceremony & Standing reception

Stay with us after the technical programme, join us in cheering the candidates and toasting the winner of the Construction Industry Person of the Year at the standing reception!

We will help to create a good atmosphere with gourmet snacks and a colourful selection of drinks. Thanks to Layher, we will open our popular Gin&Tonic bar again, where our gin masters will offer the most special gins, spices, and premium tonics to our participants. Market will bring Yama Sushi bar's exotic offer to the conference, for which a champagne selection will be available. Stay with us until the end of the evening, and let us celebrate together again!
