Session I: New Rhythm, New Reflexes - Opportunities and Strategies for the Profession

The opening session of REA SUMMIT 2025 – Powered by Pénzcentrum offers a comprehensive professional overview of the current state of the real estate brokerage sector, along with the key challenges and opportunities that will shape its near future. Leading industry players and decision-makers will share their insights on the latest market trends with a particular focus on the Hungarian housing market, regional specificities, and global influences. Special emphasis will be placed on business and technological innovations that support the sector's long-term renewal. Attendees will gain practical insights into current sales and pricing strategies, along with guidance on how to prepare for market changes and turn them into a competitive edge.
